Summary

Experienced Javascript Engineer with 5+ years of software development, whilst building market-ready products on the job and even when freelancing.

Super friendly and awesome personality with so much love for productivity and spiritual life.

I write backend web development using NodeJS and ExpressJS or NestJS. Majorly, I build products using the agile methodology which is most helpful for products I've created.

If you would love me to join your team, just reach out with a call or email, whichever you prefer, all my contact details are above.

Thank you!
